How to get here

By Train: Trains depart from London Charing Cross, London Bridge, St Pancras (High Speed Link) and Waterloo East (change at Ashford International for Rye) approx 1hr 5mins. Trains also depart from London Victoria and Gatwick Airport (change at Hastings for Rye). Rail information: 08457 484950 www.nationalrail.co.uk

By Road: Rye is situated on the A259 between Hastings to the west and Folkestone to the east and on the A268 from the north. Visit www.theaa.co.uk for a detailed route planner to Rye from your starting destination. From London/M25, take the A21 or M20 and follow signs to Rye. Upon arrival, follow signs to Rye’s main visitor car park, Gibbet Marsh (210 spaces).
The Inside & Out of Rye

Perched on a hill, the medieval town of Rye is the sort of place you thought existed only in your imagination. Almost suspended in time, Rye’s unhurried atmosphere and enchanting streets draw visitors with their warm welcome. It’s small enough to make you feel at home almost straight away but holds enough secret treasures to entice you to stay much longer.

You’ll find quality independent retailers not seen in anonymous malls. Luxury products, antiques, books, records and artisan goods are Rye’s speciality. Art and photography galleries are evidence of a flourishing creative community. Cobbled streets and narrow passages reveal architectural treasures among beautifully preserved Medieval, Tudor and Georgian buildings. Many are open to the public as fine restaurants, tearooms or pubs. And when you need a well-earned rest, retreat to the comforts of a bed & breakfast or hotel housed in ancient and quirky buildings but with every modern amenity.

Rye is a place where people pride themselves on doing things differently. The Quarter Boys on the tower of St Mary the Virgin don’t strike on the hour but on the quarter. Mermaid Street is peppered with ancient buildings, with unusual names such as ‘The House Opposite’ or ‘The House with the Seat’. Even the sea is a little wayward – it retreated from the town centuries ago, leaving Rye a stranded seaside town...

Historic Rye

Whereas many towns boast a colourful past but have little evidence of it, Rye can bear testimony to its eventful past.

For centuries Rye stood in the hill at the estuary of the River Rother, which provided a safe anchorage and harbour. Rye was an important place for shipment and storage of iron from the Wealden iron industry.

As you wander around, look out for local landmarks like the Ypres Tower and Landgate Tower. Other buildings, such as Lamb House, (once the home of Henry James and later, E. F. Benson) in West Street are open to the public. Don’t miss the view from the top of the tower of the Parish Church of St. Mary’s and when you explore the churchyard, look out for the Town Water Cistern, built in 1735.

Rye’s real moment of fame came in the 12th century when Rye and Winchelsea were attached to the Cinque Port Hastings as ‘Antient Towns’ and later became members in their own right. The town’s duties involved supplying the King with ships and seamen, in return for freedom from taxation and self-government. 13th century storms changed the shoreline so it had a large, safe harbour. Rye survived frequent attacks from the French during this era and some of Rye’s most famous landmarks date from around this time.

Perhaps Rye’s most exciting point in history was the 18th century when its prosperity depended as much on smuggling as any other trade.

Writers and Artists

Many of these Rye residents have become world famous literary heroes, such as Henry James, Conrad Aiken, Joseph Conrad, H. G. Wells and G. K. Chesterton, whereas others like John Ryan have dreamt up popular stories such as the swashbuckling adventures of Captain Pugwash.

Artists like Paul Nash and Edward Burra lived in Rye which, together with the surrounding coastline, has been painted by artists such as Whistler, the Pre-Raphaelites and John Piper.

Rye’s most famous and best-loved author is probably E. F. Benson, whose fictional town of Tilling is based on Rye. There are walks around E. F. Benson’s Rye during the summer. Full details from Alan Dowling 01797 223114.

Outside Rye

Walks wind their way through the historic landscape full of special wildlife, which can be enjoyed all year long. In late spring sea kale blooms on the shingle ridges of Rye Harbour Nature Reserve and marsh mallows flower in the ditches. Corn buntings can be heard singing and whimbrel flocks feed in the area. In summer dragonflies and damselflies dart over open water and marsh frogs bask in the sun at the edge of ponds. Autumn brings the spectacle of migrating birds and colourful fruit in trees and shrubs. In winter large flocks of lapwings circle over grassland and you might even be lucky enough to spot a bittern in the reed beds or little egrets in the saltmarsh.

Camber renowned for its outstanding natural beauty with its miles of golden sands to be enjoyed all year round. With over half a mile to the water’s edge at low tide, visitors have plenty of opportunity to enjoy water sports, bracing walks or to beachcomb for beautiful shells. There is also a scenic cycle track from New Road (the A259 on the eastern outskirts of Rye) to Camber.

Winchelsea is the ‘Antient Town’ of the Cinque Ports built in 13th century – here the sea receded to leave the town high and dry on an inland hilltop. Its picturesque Georgian houses have inspired many great artists such as Turner and Millais. This stunning village has stayed true to its ancient roots and is a quaint reminder of the area’s rich history.

15 The Boathouse, Rye
The thriving market town of Battle is home to the very spot where King Harold fell during the fateful conflict. The Edwardian seaside resort of Bexhill-on-Sea is the birthplace of British motor racing. The charming village of Burwash hosts Rudyard Kipling’s house ‘Batemans’. Europe’s largest beach-launched fishing fleet can be seen in Hastings where you can also enjoy the picturesque Old Town.

Bodiam is the perfect place for visitors to lose themselves in the magic and mystery of modern science. Northiam is a rich tapestry of thatched cottages and country pubs. Pevensey was the landing point for both the Romans and the Normans and don’t miss the fairytale castle of Bodiam.
